

NEQ-TTRPG DM QUICK-REFERENCE GUIDE

PART 1: NARRATIVE INPUT

BASIC STRUCTURE

- First-person perspective - Speak as your character using "I"
- Speech in quotes - "I swear by my barbaric gods!" for dialogue
- Actions in prose - I grab the crate and haul it up the ladder
- Mechanics in brackets - <rolls 22 acrobatics>, <1/2 Rages left>

WHAT WORKS WELL

Pattern	Example
Direct action	I draw my greatsword and charge the Naiad!
Dialogue + action	"We need that bowl!" I say, then we continue singing.
Questions to DM	How long can we sing? Does the Hermit succeed?
Scene requests	What do we find? What do we see ahead?
Rules questions	DM, what's the ruling on surprise rounds?
State reminders	<1/2 Rages left until long rest>

MULTI-PC PLAY

- Switch active PC via the GUI tabs before typing
- Reference other PCs by name: I signal to Kira to flank
- Coordinate actions: We stand ready behind the barbarian
- Each PC takes their turn separately when active

TIPS FOR SMOOTH PLAY

1. Be specific - Don't assume the DM is telepathic, describe your PC party's actions in detail.
2. State your intent clearly - DM responds to your PC's intentions as well as actions
3. Ask questions - Direct DM queries work like a human DM & yes you can also argue with AI! Just preface your query with DM, why did you...
4. Track resources - Note <2/2 Rages> when using features, be proactive in tracking PC stats. For example, DM, place this item in my inventory
5. Trust the DM - Let DM handle NPC reactions and world state accoding to their own die rolls and interpretation of the 5e ruleset
6. YOU ARE THE CO-NARRATOR! - Your prompts to the DM strongly affect the evolving game world, so speak boldly, add flavour, and go off-piste!
